

Steve Backley OBE.

Broadcaster, Motivational Speaker & 2 x Olympic Silver Medallist in Javelin

Birth date: 12/02/1969

Born: Sidcup, UK

Lives: Kent, UK

Records / Achievements

- 1992 Bronze Medallist - Barcelona Olympic Games
- 1996 & 2000 Silver Medallist - Atlanta Olympic Games
- 1994, 1998 & 2002 European Champion
- Only British Track and Field competitor to win medals at 3 different Olympic Games
- Became first British Male to set a World Record in a throwing event

In an unparalleled career for a British field athlete, Steve's career saw him throw the javelin to multiple world records, Olympic, World and a load of other medals. He is the only British track and field competitor to win medals at 3 different Olympic Games. He took the mantle from Paul Dickinson as BBC Sports lead field commentator, broadcasting to millions during the Rio Olympics and other major events.

Affable, laid back in nature and ability to communicate with all ages has made Steve both a fantastic ambassador for sport and an excellent role model. Steve has established himself as one of the best respected and sought after speakers within the corporate market. With a background in Sports Psychology and a rich experience competition at the very highest level, Steve has a wealth of knowledge to impart and a long and successful career to back up his theories.

Contact.

office@mtc-uk.com

020 7935 8000